

My Days End

I called you on the telephone
Just wanting to hear your sweet voice
And the sound was such a rejoice
Knowing that you're still alone

I know this might seem crazy
Why would I want you to be alone?
I guess I'm selfish, for I'm alone
Can it be, or am I just lazy

Some people wonder what I'm doing
But I'm sure you know, my feelings for you
They are without a doubt unwavering too
That's what makes my life not worth living

For if I must live my life not beside you
Not ever to feel you warmth and embrace
Then I should be gone without a trace
From this cruel world, that keeps me wanting you

I know that I have nothing to give
But my...undying devotion to you
And though it might seem hard to do
I must do this, and hope God will forgive

It is not much of a lost I assure you
For I was not meant to have anything
This I am assure of, for I have nothing
Especially this is true without you

So as I near my days end
I fear not what I'm about to do
For I know that I cannot live without you
That's why I look forward to the end